Tutoring Experience

My tutoring journey began five years ago, focusing on IB History and Sociology. I have taught students from diverse backgrounds, tailoring my methods to suit individual learning styles. My approach emphasizes critical thinking and essay writing, crucial skills for excelling in the IB curriculum. I've also helped students prepare for the History Aptitude Test (HAT), guiding them through complex historical analysis and argumentation techniques.

In addition to History and Sociology, I have extensive experience teaching English as a Foreign Language. I've worked with students ranging from young learners to adults, helping them achieve fluency and confidence in English. My TEFL certification has equipped me with the tools to address the unique challenges of language learning, and I take pride in seeing my students grow in their linguistic abilities.
